Our members believe in the indispensable role AIL plays in the community and in their lives. We have just finished another very successful year with feedback from our members indicating that, in many ways, it was our best year ever.

Now in our third decade, AIL continues to attract new members, expand our outreach to the community, and promote stimulating thought and social engagement through courses, lectures, and events. As an active partner in our enterprise, Colby-Sawyer College warmly welcomes our community of lifelong learners on campus.

Each Spring we ask you to renew your membership, or if you're new to this organization, to join us. Your membership will be active from July 1, 2019 through June 30, 2020.

Age – Thrive – and Stay ALIVE: Functional Aging

Study Group Leader: Pam Sanborn
Mondays, 9:30 – 11:30 a.m.
4 weeks beginning July 8
AIL Classroom, Lethbridge Lodge,
Colby-Sawyer College
Maximum number of participants: 30

Pam Sanborn

Pam Sanborn has been a fitness trainer and wellness coach for over 30 years. She holds a B.S. in Exercise Science from Colby-Sawyer College and a B.A. in Music Education from Pepperdine University. Originally from CA, she has lived in New London for 29 years, where she was the Fitness Coordinator at the Hogan Sports Center for 25 years. She is a Certified Personal Trainer, Certified Strength and Conditioning Coach, Certified Health Fitness Specialist, and Certified Functional Aging Specialist. Pam now owns and operates a health and wellness training company offering private and group-training sessions. She has established programs for all ages, specializing in those over 50, and believes it is never too late to start.

While we all age, it takes conscious effort and commitment to truly enjoy the process. Functional aging means maintaining high mental and physical function with a low risk of disease, and actively engaging in life. This course will explore the importance of body, mind, spirit, and social connection, and ways to incorporate them into daily life, all of which have significant effects on aging well.

- BODY: A few squats or biceps curls can increase strength yet may not have a clear connection to function. Functional fitness incorporates movements that are used in daily life to sustain a healthy and independent lifestyle. These areas include strength, flexibility, balance, and endurance.
- MIND: Mind over matter, and your mind matters. Mental fitness refers to psychosocial well-being as well as the ability to train your brain, improving aspects of cognition, attention, focus, and memory.
- SPIRIT: The reported health benefits of faith through meditation, prayer, and connection with the soul show a greater ability to cope with stress, reducing suicide rates, blood pressure, and chronic diseases, in addition to possible links to a stronger immune system.
- SOCIAL CONNECTION: Research and common sense show the importance of engaging with others to the aging process.

This course will use multimedia, lecture, and lab/workout techniques in presenting this valuable information.

Patricia Peters Martin

Patricia Peters Martin is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Georgetown University, with a Masters and Doctorate in Clinical Psychology from Purdue University. She has a clinical practice in Western Massachusetts and has been an adjunct faculty member at Purdue University, Springfield College and Bay Path University. She has guest lectured at Georgetown University, Westfield State University and American International College where her books are utilized in graduate psychology courses. She is the author of three books, including Well-Come to Retirement: Thriving in Your Third Act.

Well-Come to Retirement: Thriving in Your Third Act

Study Group Leader: Patricia Peters Martin
Mondays, 1:30 – 3:30 p.m.
3 weeks beginning July 8
AIL Classroom, Lethbridge Lodge,
Colby-Sawyer College
Maximum number of participants: 40

This course will look at retirement as a time of active engagement and generativity. Rather than present aging from a negative perspective, we will address the potential to reach one's vital self during the years ahead and how to become a perennial rather than simply a senior citizen.

While retirement planning is often focused on financial matters, this course will present a multidimensional concept of retirement. Retirement is defined from a holistic perspective of wellness using eight dimensions: physical, social, occupational, spiritual, emotional, intellectual, creative and financial. In addition to sharing stories of healthy retirement, this course will assist participants in identifying how they fare on the varying wellness concepts. This will give each participant an opportunity to further explore their unique areas of growth and aging potential.

Well-Come to Retirement: Thriving in Your Third Act is recommended reading for this course. Copies will be available for purchase at the first class ($15) or can be ordered on Amazon or through local bookstores. The book presents stories of 40 inspirational people who are utilizing these health dimensions to age well. We will also explore the aging and life-transition research of Nancy Schlossberg, Ed.D., author of Too Young to Be Old, and the health and aging advice of Roger Landry, M.D., author of Live Long, Die Short. The course will discuss the Blue Zones Project, Masterpiece Living, and the Village to Village concept. Evidence-based data will support the recommendations of the course.

Planning Ahead – Life and Death Issues

Moderators: Janice Cudey and Bill Helm
Tuesdays, 9:30 – 11:30 a.m.,
4 weeks beginning July 9
ALL Classroom, Lethbridge Lodge,
Colby-Sawyer College

– OR –

Wednesdays, 9:30 – 11:30 a.m.,
4 weeks beginning July 10
Church of the Epiphany, Newport, NH
Maximum number of participants: 40

The aging demographics of New Hampshire provide a ready and proven audience for dialogue about end of life issues. This four-week course will highlight important issues in planning for one's end of life and each session will be led by experienced practitioners in those fields. The format each week will consist of a combination of lecture and discussion. While there will not be any assigned reading, each presenter may provide relevant material related to his or her topic.

Week 1: Advance Care Planning

Session leader Janice Cudey and Bill Helm are both residents of New London and trained advance care planning facilitators in the New London Hospital Honoring Care Decisions program.

Week 2: Funeral Options

Session leader Marion, Charlie and Dan Hafner are the owners of Chadwick Funeral Services in New London and Newton-Bartlett Funeral home in Newport.

Week 3: Palliative Care and Hospice

Session leaders Jennifer Avakian and Kim Pruett are on staff at the Lake Sunapee Region VNA and Hospice.

Week 4: Faith, Spirituality and Religious Issues

Session leader Rev. McLeod is a graduate of Harvard University and Oxford University. He is currently the Rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in New London and Priest-in-Charge of the Church of the Epiphany in Newport.

Janice Cudey

Until she retired in 2017, Janice Cudey was the Parish Nurse at First Baptist Church, New London. She has also been a volunteer with LSRVNA & Hospice, Habitat for Humanity, the KLS Community Food Pantry and Kearsarge Regional Ecumenical Ministries (KREM). In addition, she has been a student in the chaplaincy program of Clinical Pastoral Education at Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center. In 2015, Janice was honored to have been awarded the title "Woman Who Makes a Difference" by LSRVNA & Hospice.

Bill Helm

Since moving to New London in 2000, Bill Helm has been a volunteer at the New London Hospital, Colby-Sawyer College, Ausbon Sargent Land Trust, Chapin Senior Center, and Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center. He has also been chair of the New London Planning Board and chair of the New London Board of Selectmen. In his pre-retirement life, Bill was a business executive in Boston and Geneva, Switzerland. His past AIL study group appearances have focused on Norway's Arctic land, Dutch history, Romania, and Daniel Webster.

James C. Bays

Jim Bays is a 1971 graduate of Dartmouth and earned his law degree at “Mr. Jefferson’s university,” the University of Virginia. While in law school, taking full advantage of the free admission afforded residents of Charlottesville, Virginia, Jim made multiple visits to Mr. Jefferson’s home at Monticello and developed a lifelong interest in America’s third President. He even uses a pewter cup designed by Mr. Jefferson as the receptacle for his daily “adult beverage.”

Thomas Jefferson: American Enigma

Study Group Leader: James C. Bays
Tuesdays, 1:30 – 3:30 p.m.
6 weeks beginning July 9
ALL Classroom, Lethbridge Lodge,
Colby-Sawyer College
Maximum number of participants: 25

In April 1962, President John Kennedy welcomed American Nobel Prize winners to the White House with the following observation: “I think this is the most extraordinary collection of talent, of human knowledge, that has ever been gathered together at the White House, with the possible exception of when Thomas Jefferson dined alone.”

Thomas Jefferson was one of the most consequential politicians in American history. Every schoolchild knows that Jefferson authored the Declaration of Independence. But he was so much more: He was our third President, a scientist, an inventor, a theologian, the founder of a university and an architect of renown (having designed the only private residence that appears on US currency). Thomas Jefferson’s interests were broad; his accomplishments, many.

But, Thomas Jefferson was also a human being. Was he a hypocrite? A racist? A philanderer?

Thomas Jefferson: complicated, but captivating.

Summertime is for Painting

Study Group Leader: Frances Wilson
Tuesdays, 1:30 – 3:30 p.m.
5 weeks beginning July 9
St. Andrew's Episcopal Church,
New London
Maximum number of participants: 10

Frances Wilson

While at Colby Junior College, Frances was privileged to study art with William Holst, an abstract artist and head of the college's art department. She studied at Columbia University and the National Academy of Design while raising four beautiful and talented daughters. Later on, while working as Membership Development and Retention Manager of the American Society of Civil Engineers, she attended evening courses at the School of Visual Arts in Manhattan. She earned a B.S. in Political Science, a Masters in Social Science at William Patterson University, and a B.S.N. from Columbia University. She encourages her students to "keep on painting throughout life," a motto she has maintained throughout her own education and professional life.

When you think of summer in New Hampshire, what images come to mind? Pastels and sparkling waters? Sunflowers? Roses? Daylilies? Hills and mountains?

Participants will have an opportunity to create on canvas with acrylic paints and brushes, or with pen, charcoal and colored pencil on paper, as they explore summer themes and colors. The course is open to all ages and stages of artists for a five-week session. Those who haven't painted for years but enjoy expressing themselves creatively by drawing or painting are encouraged to take this course. Completed works will be critiqued by class peers, which is part of the learning process.

Encore 2019: Film

Moderator: Ginger Milord
 Wednesdays, 9:30 a.m. – Noon
 4 weeks beginning July 10
 AIL Classroom, Lethbridge Lodge,
 Colby-Sawyer College
 Maximum number of participants: 40

Three film courses and one on American performing artists born in 1918 were well received this year. Encore 2019: Film offers the opportunity to sample one class from each of these courses.

July 10, 9:30 – 11:30 a.m.
100th Birthday Celebration of American Performing Artists / John Peterman
 Selection: Two Hollywood Icons

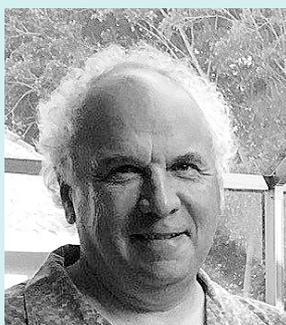

Born just two months apart in 1918, William Holden and Ida Lupino made significant contributions to Hollywood film. They each gave their lives to the film industry and, as a result, suffered tragic consequences.

William Holden appeared in movies over five decades and received countless awards for his acting versatility. We will explore several of his films as well as his very complicated personal life.

In addition to being a highly regarded actress, Ida Lupino was the only female director working in Hollywood in the 1940s. We will focus on five of the movies she directed, films that Martin Scorsese says “represent a singular achievement in American Cinema.”

July 17, 9:30 – Noon
From Cinderella to Easy Rider: A Film Series
 Beverly Marshall
 Selection: Guess Who’s Coming to Dinner

In From Cinderella to Easy Rider: A Film Series, five seminal movies illustrated how baby boomers’ lives were transformed from innocents of the fifties to sixties revolutionaries. These films were made between 1950 and 1969 when racial tension, the proliferation of drugs, the threat of a nuclear catastrophe, Vietnam and radical feminism literally and figuratively set the country on fire.

John Peterman

Perhaps the movie that most exemplifies the series is Guess Who's Coming to Dinner, which was filmed the year Loving v. Virginia, a landmark Supreme Court decision, struck down state laws banning interracial marriage as violations of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. We'll explore what was happening that year (1967) both in the larger world and in your life!

July 24, 9:30 – Noon

PERFECT PIX / Joe Fanning

Selection: The Adventures of Robin Hood

Considered to be the most pristine Technicolor feature, The Adventures of Robin Hood (1938) is a swashbuckler epic that has never been equaled despite the numerous color movies made since. The tremendous leading cast of Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland and Basil Rathbone thrill the audience with great adventure, fabulous sword fighting, as well as an engaging romance all done within a great historical story of notorious treachery from Medieval England.

July 31, 9:30 – Noon

A Food Film Feast / Ginger Milord

Selection: Babette's Feast

A Food Film Feast studied four food films from different countries. This class will view and discuss the 1987 Danish film Babette's Feast, directed by Gabriel Axel and starring Stephane Audran, Bodil Kjer and Birgitte Federspiel. So much more than just a food film, the movie is based on a short story by Isak Dinesen (Karen Blixen) of Out of Africa fame and vividly illustrates the difference between “eating to live” and “living to eat”!

Joe Fanning

Ginger Milord

Brenda Watts

Encore 2019: Science

Wednesdays, 1:30 – 3:30 p.m.

Again this summer, AIL will offer the “Encore” series of talks, culled from popular full-length courses given this past year. From pre-history to modern times, come learn how science has helped unfold a dramatic and ongoing story that affects us all!

July 10: The Events of 536 AD: Volcanism, Plague and Empire Decline
Scott Rappeport, Ph.D.

Large volcanic events have impacted civilization directly and indirectly. It’s likely the massive eruptions of 540 AD altered the course of Western Europe and enabled the introduction of the Bubonic Plague.

Scott Rappeport

July 17: Land and Water – The Connection
June Fichter, Executive Director, Lake Sunapee Protective Association

The relationship between land and water is fundamental. A brief overview will explore its underlying factors, including the role of humans in this relationship.

June Fichter

July 24: Environmental Essentials

Neil Shifrin, Ph.D.

How is environmental quality defined, measured and analyzed by professionals in the field? You will hear a brief description of environmental regulation and how the environment is managed under such regulation. Learn how the environment and its quality issues affect each of us and our homes.

Neil Shifrin

July 31: Marijuana: Current Issues and Debates / Robert Lyon, Ph.D.

This talk will provide background on the history and use of marijuana, its pharmacology and effects. FDA-approved drugs, based on marijuana ingredients, and synthetic marijuana will be discussed. Issues and debates over medical marijuana and decriminalization/legalization will be included.

Robert Lyon

August 7: How Science Was Born and Why It Matters Today / Richard Schwemm, M.S.

From Plato to Newton, modern science developed from ancient mythology and natural philosophy. Accepted criteria evolved that allow us to judge the validity of scientific theories. We'll attempt to apply those criteria to a discussion of global warming.

Visual Verse – The Ripple Effects

Moderator: Nancy Marashio
Wednesdays, 1:00 – 4:00 p.m.
5 weeks beginning July 10
Lake Sunapee Protective Association
Education Center, Sunapee
Maximum number of participants: 15

Drop a pebble in the water:
Just a splash, and it is gone;
But there's half-a-hundred ripples
Circling on and on and on.

– James W. Foley

Those of us interested in writing have much to learn from local poets. Seven poets who composed poems inspired by photographs from the Lake Sunapee Protective Association's 2018 photo contest will share their creative process: specifics about how they determine what to say and how to say it, how the places in the pictures shaped their work, and how the resulting poem is or is not typical of their other work.

After participants respond to the presentations, each presenter will offer a prompt so we can practice by writing our own pieces. Sharing our writing will become another essential resource to respond to and learn from.

At the end of the five weeks, we will assess how the writing of presenters and participants influenced our own writing and what we integrated into our own work.

July 10: The Source

Ellen Evans Pysz lives on an old farm at the end of a dead-end road on East Mountain in Newport, NH, and at Camp on Upper Lead Mountain Pond in Township 28, Down East, Maine. She will not only set the poetic tone but also offer biological expertise in framing the role of place in her work.

July 17: *Reflections and Aubade: Late Summer, Early Fall

Natalie Davis taught English to students in middle school. She loves to be outdoors.

Joan T. Doran, a former psychotherapist and family service agency executive, co-chairs the Literary Arts Guild of the Center for the Arts. Her book of poetry is Herding Mice at Three A.M.

July 24: *Misty Meadow Morning

Dianalee Velie is the poet laureate of Newbury, NH. She is the author of five books of poetry (Glass House, First Edition, The Many Roads to Paradise, The Alchemy of Desire and Ever After) and a collection of short stories, Soul Proprietorship: Women in Search of Their Soul. She is the founder of the John Hay Poetry Society.

July 31: *My Place and Summer's Rite

Mary Blohm enjoys expressing herself by writing poetry and painting with watercolors. She is a volunteer at The Fells and serves on the Board of the Lake Sunapee Protective Association. She is a retired management analyst, the mother of four, and lives on Lake Sunapee.

Catherine Anastasi Feeney is a retired attorney and year-round local resident who enjoys her family, friends and the beauty of Lake Sunapee every day.

August 7: *Dustwalker

Guest Policy

Many of our courses are oversubscribed and have a waiting list. As a courtesy to our membership, please remember that attendance in AIL classes is reserved only for those individuals who have registered and have been enrolled in the course.

Name Badges

Course participants who have not already received a permanent name badge will receive an adjustable, lanyard-style badge to be used in all future AIL courses. Participants should be sure to store their badges in a safe place. The replacement fee is $3.
