

Life is a Love Story: Sharing Creativity, Commitment and Roots

Peter and Kathy have built their life together in New London for 45 years, continuing the threads of family connections in the area.

Join them to learn about their mutually supported artistic careers, their journey as a couple, and how their love of nature forms their intentions for life from the inside out. They will show some of their artistic endeavors, such as Kathy's "Petreflection" images and Peter's drone and kayak videos, as well as an example of his translucent wood lampshades.
