

We Are Buoyed! The Story of Lake Sunapee's Global Fame

Dr. Kathleen Weathers

LAKE
SUNAPEE
PROTECTIVE
ASSOCIATION
LSPA

LSPA Buoy

Photo Credit: Midge Elaisen

Distinguished senior scientist at the Cary Institute of Ecosystem Studies and (Volunteer) Research Director for the Lake Sunapee Protective Association (LSPA), Dr. Kathleen Weathers has studied ecosystems across the globe and the factors impacting their function. Join us to learn how unanticipated events during her 2004-05 sabbatical with LSPA laid the groundwork for Lake Sunapee to become a famously-studied body of water for researchers and community groups around the world. This talk will weave stories of serendipity and science that have led to Lake Sunapee's global, regional and local fame.

Tuesday, August 20, 4 PM
Lethbridge Lodge, Colby-Sawyer College
Limited Seats. RSVP Required.

www.ailcsc.com/communityspotlight